

Company's Revenue by Product Category

The company is wholesale specializing in the different food products that fall into 8 categories. For each category that represents a product segment, we plot the total revenue. The period of the analysis of sales of the company focuses between 2014-07-16 and 2016-05-06.

Company's Revenue by Geography of Customer Location

The company is international wholesale that operates in different 21 countries. We plot total revenue for each geography segment.

Most Profitable Product by Category

The products sold by the company falling within the 8 categories of food are 77. It identifies the most profitable product for each segment.

Most Profitable Product by Geography

For each of 21 geography segments, we find the most profitable product.

Less Profitable Product by category

For each product segment, there is a less profitable product.

Less Profitable Product by Geography

There is a product less profitable for each geography segment.